EDUCATOR FROM MANCHESTER HS TALKS TO CLUB

A Maryland educator, pointing out how the misunderstandings of lay citizens have hampered the administration of the nation's public schools, Tuesday night urged a wholesale reappraisal of the secondary education system.

An attack against the modern attitude that "you can't flunk a senior," was made in an address to members of the Gettysburg Exchange Club by Charles A. Brinton, former administrator and high school principal who is now a teacher in Manchester, Md. "It seems to be universal now that when a person reaches the senior class he feels he can do what he wants," he declared.

Brinton's speech on the current situation and future of public education in the United States was made at a dinner meeting of the Exchange Club at Bankert's. He claimed that through popular misunderstandings many freedoms are being lost, among these being the "right of a child to fail."

Limits Pupil's Freedom

Brinton pointed an accusing finger at parents and communities which "will not stand for a school flunking a senior." He cited as an illustration the system of one state which advocates the policy not to flunk any child in the first eight grades. This theory maintains that to flunk a child in any of the first eight grades will only set up pshychological frustrations within the individual.

Stating that "all progress comes from challenge and a subsequent response," Brinton opined that

'53 Was "Fairly Favorable" Year For County Farmers, Attinger Says In His Report

"Generally speaking, 1953 was fairly favorable for the farmers of Adams County," according to the annual report made by Assistant County Agent Fred H. Attinger to the extension department of Pennsylvania State University.

Attinger's introduction to the report covering the last year's work notes: "The fruit growers of the county experienced much difficulty early in the season due to the excessive amount of rainfall during the late spring. Rain and windy weather made it difficult to apply may of the early sprays.

"A shortage of farm labor existing throughout the county presented another problem. Although many Puerto Ricans and southern transient labor was used, there was still a shortage of labor on many farms.

Hit By Dry Weather

"Dairymen experienced reasonably good prices, while poultrymen still had to contend with fluctuating markets and high feed costs.

"Steer feeders in the county saw prices drop on the fat cattle market and prices and trends in the beef cattle business in general were not too favorable.

"The yields of grain and hay crops were good early in the year, but we experienced the driest summer in 20 years which resulted in losses in hay crops and corn yield later in the year.

"Vegetables generally were only fair due to the extremely dry weather of July, August and September."

Tests on 106 farms showed "generally speaking the lime situation in the county is relatively good," according to the report. Complete tests of 116 soil samples made during the year led the assistant county agent to conclude: "County soil samples continued to show a severe deficiency in organic matter and potash."

According to Attinger's report: "Much interest is continuing in beef cattle breeding herds, but the

Dr. Raymond F. Sheely Has Article In Medical Journal

A report read by Dr. Raymond F. Sheely, Baltimore St., before the Adams County Medical Society last March, was published in the December issue of the "American Practitioner," medical journal published by J. B. Lippincott Co., of Philadelphia and London.

Dr. Sheely's article is entitled "Fibrous Adhesive Pericarditis Following ACTH Therapy in Acute Rheumatic Pancarditis: Case Report."

His report is based on the case of a ten-year-old girl admitted to the Warner Hospital here in 1950 and later removed to the University of Pennsylvania hospital where she died.

The child, according to the report, was well until the winter of 1949 when she developed acute follicular tonsillitis, which was treated with sulfonamides and penicillin. When she continued to have a high temperature, plus pains in the hands, knees and hips, and easy tiredness, she was admitted to the hospital.

Recovered; Ill Again

Dr. Sheely's article then outlines the examination made of the youngster along with the results of various laboratory tests. Treated with acetyl-salicylic acid, bed rest, vitamins C and K, brewers yeast and iron, she apparently recovered. In October, 1950, following a mild upper respiratory infection she again became ill. She was pallid and had a consistent complaint of fullness across the chest. She rested best propped up in bed.

ACTH treatment was started and the patient improved. Three days after treatment began improvement could be noted. Sixteen days after treatment began she was much improved, with increased appetite.

Then seven weeks after ACTH therapy was begun "fullness in the abdomen was detected, with

REDS TIGHTEN PRESSURE ON FRENCH FORT

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietminh rebels tightened their pressure today on Dien Bien Phu, the last French fortress in northwest Indochina. French sources speculated that it is the major objective in the current Communist winter campaign, perhaps in preparation for another push into the already invaded kingdom of Laos.

The Red-led invaders who knifed across southern Laos to Thakhek on the Thailand border last week had made no apparent new move in four days. But at Dien Bien Phu, 300 airline miles to the northwest, troops of the Vietminh "Iron Division" drew within four miles of the fortressed plain bristling with French Union troops and American-supplied arms.

Report Two Crashes

A French army spokesman said strong French Union patrols clashed twice with Vietminh troops northwest and southwest of Dien Bien Phu. There was a strong indication the Vietminh might be trying to move striking forces into encircling positions before launching an attack.

The rebels were reported within four to six miles of the fortress, which was taken by the French last Nov. 20 and steadily reinforced by airlift since then.

The French have been expecting an attack there by troops of Vietminh Division No. 316—the "Iron Division"—equipped with some of the best and heaviest materiel received from Communist China.

Planes Strife Reds

French fighter planes made heavy strafing attacks on the Vietminh as they drew closer to the fortress 180 miles west of Hanoi, in the heart of the biggest rice bowl area of the Thai mountain country.

French army sources said if an attack comes on Dien Bien Phu, the battle will be hard and heavy. Fall of the fortress would not only lose for France its last major post in the Thai country bordering on Communist China but would also open a major invasion route into northern Laos, where the rebels already have forces left from the invasion they interrupted last spring.

EDUCATOR FROM

this policy, which he claimed is not followed extensively throughout the state, "takes away the freedom of a pupil to do his best."

He said that many U. S. colleges have stopped the practice of requiring entrance examinations because all too many students, improperly prepared and trained, could not pass them.

Teacher Supply Short

Examining the physical needs of America's schools, Brinton, a former teacher at Swarthmore and Clifton Heights, N. J., high schools, dwelt briefly on the necessity for larger and additional schools as a future standby for the present high birth rates.

He pointed out that there are too many over-crowded schools in this country where youngsters attend clesses on a half-time basis or another system of staggered education. In this connection he cited statistics which showed that the average number of children in a family is now between three and four and that marriages of younger ages bg fw marriages between persons of younger ages seems to be the rule.

Coinciding conversely with the number of children to be taught, an expected increase of seven million in the next six years, Brinton told how the teacher supply is rapidly approaching the alarming stage because of "inadequate salaries."

Quotes Statistics

He exhibited figures which showed that since 1939 women's average pay in industry has increased 150 per cent nationally and men's 200 per cent. During the same time teachers' wages have gone up only 17 per cent. He noted that New York, California and Delaware lead the nation in the pay scale of teachers. Pennsylvania ranks 17th.

He concluded: "It is up to lay groups like yourselves to speak the cause of the schools and of the children attending your schools."

NEW PRESIDENT OF PHILIPPINES PROMISES GOOD, EFFICIENT RULE

MANILA (AP) — Peppy Ramon Magsaysay, a 46-year-old blacksmith's son, pledged an "honest, efficient and constructive government" today before a cheering throng of more than 100,000 that saw him sworn in as the third President of this seven-year-old republic.

"For this young and vigorous nation of ours, nothing is really impossible," the staunch former defense secretary declared in hs inaugural address.

After solemnly taking the oath of office, Magsaysay outlined a seven-point program aimed at raising living conditions, strengthening internal securty and wiping out the Communist-directed Huk rebel movement.

Warns Reds

He called for strong ties with the United States and declared that relations with friendly Asian nations must be tightened to meet common problems.

"But," he warned, "to the leaders of the Communist conspiracy who would deliver this country and its people to a foreign power, this I say:

"I shall use all the forces at my command to the end that the sovereign authority of the government shall be respected and maintained. There can be no compromise wth disloyalty."

Famous As Huk-Buster

The new President, who rode his fame as Huk-busting defense secretary into the highest office in the land, urged Communst rebels "who have been misled by the lies of the Kremlin" to surrender.

Magsaysay broke with the administration of President Elpidio Quirino in a dispute over the resettlement of rebels who gave themselves up.

As standard bearer of the opposition Nacionalista party, he won a smashing victory over Quirino in November's election for a four-year term.

FIRE FIGHTING CREW ENLARGED

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Crews fighting to check two forest fires in the San Gabriel Mountains, one menacing Mt. Wilson Observatory, were reinforced to meet a predicted fresh windstorm today.

Forecasters said the fate of the observatory, valuable television equipment and homes in the fire area depended upon the caprice of the wind, if it develops.

Another fre 20 miles to the east, in the Mt. Baldy region, broke out of control last night and swept another 1,000 acres to bring the flame-blackened area there to 4,000 acres.

Fire lines were able to keep the flames from the summit of Mt. Wilson yesterday, largely because the wind abated almost entirely but there were times when the blaze crept to within 200 yards of the observatory grounds.

Aboard the craft were Maj. James H. Herrick, 35, of Broomall, Pa., and Lt. Edward Bernard, 24, of Bala - Cynwyd, Pa., both members of the Pennsylvania Air National Guard.

the liver edge two fingers below the costal margin. There was pitting edema in the right lower leg."

Describes Complications

Dr. Sheely's article describes the various complications that developed thereafter. At first "although the patient was subjectively improved, the pulse and respiratory rates were increased." Study showed a shift of the electrical axis of the heart to the right.

Further complications developed for the next eight months and the local physician describes the various complications, the examinations made and their results. Cortisone treatment, started a month before death, "resulted in a critical state of extremely tense ascites and increased leg edema."

The postmortem study showed "the principal lesion was a rheumatic pancarditis with an obliterative pericarditis, with dense, fibrous thickening of the pericardium adherent to the heart that could be freed only by sharp dissection."

Dr. Sheely pointed out that the "intractable congestive state" was an unusual and unexpected feature of the case. It occurred two months after institution of treatment with ACTH and occurred "at a time the patient was clinically improved, with great improvement in appetite, sense of well being and subsidence of toxicity."

He notes that adhesive pericarditis is "not a common entity."

He then adds, "Although the use of ACTH cannot be definitly linked to the pathologic lesions in this case, the occurrence of Pick's Syndrome two months following steroid therapy leads to interesting considerations in light of recent knowledge of the effect of these steriods in other vascular conditions."

Jet Pilot Is Speaker For Littlestown Rotary Club

Lt. Fred Wilhide of Taneytown R. D., who recently received his wings as a jet pilot, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Littlestown Rotary Club last evening at Schottie's Hotel. Lt. Wilhide was presented by his uncles, Rotarians Charles and Luther Ritter, and he spoke about his experiences as a student pilot and jet airplanes. The speaker told the Rotarians that a jet plane uses 400 gallons of gas an hour and that the planes contain 22 miles of electrical wiring.

Movies were shown of the Rotary International convention last summer in Mexico City. The convention was attended by Charles E. Ritter and Ernest W. Dunbar from the local club.

The invocation was offered by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds and group singing was led by the Rev. David S. Kammerer. Miss Elizabeth Ann Crouse was piano accompanist for the singing. The program was arranged by the international service committee, Frank E. Basehoar, chairman. President Preston Myers presented each member of the club with a holiday remembrance. The resignation of Frank J. Krocak as a member was received with regret, due to ill health. One visiting Rotarian was present, Harold Reuning, Gettysburg, and one guest, Lloyd Wilhide, Taneytown R. D., father of the speaker. A club assembly will be featured at the meeting next Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. Arrangements for the program are in charge of the club service committee, composed of Luther D. Snyder, Edward T. Richardson Sr., Edward H. Leister, Bernard F. Schott and J. Ray Reindollar.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

"TOYS" THAT GREW GREAT

In a small brochure called "Management Briefs" gotten out by Rogers, Slade & Hill, consultants on Management problems, I came upon this interesting story. Recently the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. called a meeting of stockholders to authorize an issue of convertible debentures in the amount of $625,000,000, and the writer goes on to tell about an event that took place "on the top floor of a modest building on Court Street, Boston, on March 10th, 1876, when Thomas A. Watson distinctly heard his employer say over a wire circuit: "Watson, come here; I want you." These were the first spoken words ever carried over wires.

The one who uttered that command was none other than Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, which many at that time merely referred to as "Bell's toy!" What a toy it grew up to be! At this moment some half million people are waiting for their telephone service, and millions of others are adding to their pleasure and profit through the aid of this invaluable invention.

As a boy in a small mid-western town, I recall how a druggist there had a telephone from his store to his home, and people looked upon it as a miracle. Today the human voice can go around the earth by telephone in a very few minutes. I still look upon the telephone as a miracle.

The late Henry Ford once took me to a small brick building in his Greenfield Village at Dearborn, Michigan, and showed me with pride his first automobile, tiny in comparison to the great cars of today. People called Ford's invention a "toy"—but it has grown to be over a billion dollar one!

I once visited the grave of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Graham Bell. It is marked by a natural boulder with the two names cut into the stone, on a high hill just outside Baddeck, Nova Scotia. That boulder is significant of the integrity, faith, vision, and enterprise that characterize the mammoth telephone giant of today.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "You Can!"

RESOLUTION

Here's a new year's resolution
More than trivial faults to mend:
One—or group—or institution
Freedom bravely to defend.

Let no traitorous voice be heeded.
Tyrants always rise to fall.
This by liberty is needed:
Vigilance from one and all.

Lest our land by hate be blighted,
Let us vow the new year through Faith renewed and strength united
All our country asks to do.

Let's resolve lest right shall
Truth be crushed and might succeed,
God and brotherhood to cherish
'Til world-wide mankind is freed.

Sees Ike Pinning Hope On Situation Ideal, Not Real

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is pinning his hopes on a situation which may turn to be more ideal than real.

This is his expressed ideal:

1. That Congress will approve the program he offers it next week. He has talked of it as a dynamic and progressive program.

2. That this program will then be the main issue in the November congressional elections — the voters' first chance since 1952 to pass judgment on his administration.

"Recession" To Continue

Yet, even if Congress should pass his program just as he wants it, by election time the voters may be influenced more by something else.

For example, a turn for better or worse in foreign affairs or a business slump which would involve production, prices, wages and jobs.

Yesterday a majority of 300 economists at a forum conducted by the American Statistical Assn. expressed belief the country is not only in a "recession" but that it would last through 1954.

Must Make Plans

(Later, Under Secretary of Commerce Walter Williams predicted business will maintain its growth in 1954.)

Or, as Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) predicted, the public may be so steamed up over the Communists-in-government issue that that will be the main one.

Since Eisenhower can only hope for what he'd like to see in 1954, the best he can do is go ahead and plan for it, even though his plans don't work out.

Th irony of Eisenhower's situation is that he can't put his program over without the help of some Democrats.

He'll Need Democrats

In the Senate, there are 48 Democrats, only 47 Republicans, and 1 independent. And not all 47 Republicans will follow the President down the line on everything, so he'll need some Democratic votes.

The same thing will be true in the House, where there are 219 Republicans, 215 Democrats, and 1 independent.

The President particularly will need Democratic support for his foreign program, both military, economic and diplomatic. A realization of this, no doubt, is why he has invited Democratic leaders to the White House Jan. 5.

3,455,954 IN SERVICE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department, in its first monthly manpower report since the Korean War started, said yesterday there were 3,455,954 men and women in the armed services at the end of November.

This was the breakdown: Army 1,502,552, Navy 778,057, Marine Corps 251,770, Air Force 923,575.

The total was 229,000 under the Korean peak reached in April 1952. It was 51,000 under the figure for last Jan. 1.

17 ARTICLES IN TEACHERS' BILL OF RIGHTS

HARRISBURG (AP) — A bill of rights for the teaching profession, detailing 17 definite principles, was placed before the school teachers of Pennsylvania Tuesday at the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Assn.

The right to participate in political activities as citizens and the right to protection from discrimination on the basis of race, color, creed, sex or political belief are included in the bill.

The bill, result of four years of deliberation, was presented to some 3,000 school teachers at their 101st three-day convention which opened yesterday.

A preamble to the bill declares, "Every right which a teacher has carries with it a corresponding responsibility as a member of the teaching profession."

It calls for each teacher to have the right to receive for his services a financial return, "as it becomes due," that will allow him a living standard comparable to that of other professional groups and that will enable him to improve his professional service.

"Decline Assignments"

Another principle on the bill of rights calls for "adequate, constructive and sympathetic supervision" for every teacher. Another says, "Each teacher has the right to decline without prejudice special assignments beyond the normal school day."

Another states that each teacher should have the right to classes of such size and a total pupil load of such weight that he may develop the maximum interests, capacities and skills of individual pupils.

The bill of rights was presented by a committee headed by Edith A. Begelow of Upper Darby.

Monday night the convention heard Gov. Fine emphasize the need to attract more young persons to the teaching field.

"More teachers we must have. Within the next six years Pennsylvania will require more than 2,000 additional instructors prepared by our institutions to take their proper place in the classrooms of our state," Fine said.

He called for an economical and expeditious solution to the basic requirements of school construction. Recent gains in educational appropriations to education must be maintained at all costs, Fine declared.

SAYS DRAFT IS USED AS FARM CONTROL MEANS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey has denied an assertion by Rep. Burr P. Harrison (D-Va) that the draft machinery in Virginia is being used to help control farm production.

But Harrison, who made public Tuesday Hershey's reply to his complaint, said in an interview that he disagrees with the selective service director.

Harrison's charge, in effect, is that a circular issued to Virginia draft boards discourages them from giving deferments as essential farm workers to youths who are producing primarily crops of which there is a surplus. He said that would make selective service "an instrument of agricultural production control."

The circular was issued by the Virginia state draft director, Thomas W. White. A national selective service official said he knew of no similar circulars in other states. He said state directors are not required to send such material to Washington, "but most do as a matter of information."

The Virginia circular said that "if there is an overproduction of a particular agricultural commodity it can readily be seen that further production thereof would certainly not be necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest, and to defer registrants to continue to produce those commodities where there is an overproduction would be unwarranted."

Hershey, in his letter to Harrison, said he had been assured by White that it was not the state director's intention "to attempt to control the nation's agricultural production."

Harrison, saying he disagrees with Hershey, commented:

"I do not believe it was the intention of Congress to put the local selective service boards in the position of being agricultural economists."

If local boards act on the basis of what they read about farm surpluses, he added, there could be a great disparity in opinions.

Swap A-facts With Friendly Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—A very limited exchange of secret atomic information for peaceful purposes has been under way for some time between the United States and friendly nations, Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) has disclosed.

Hickenlooper, vice chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said yesterday this information dealt with "materials processing" and involved atomic isotopes, used widely in medical research. He declined to elaborate.

Israeli Soldier Is Killed Near Border

JERUSALEM (AP) — An Israeli spokesman said one Israeli soldier was killed and another wounded in two incidents Tuesday on the armistice demarcation line between Israel and Jordan.

He said the first shooting occurred when an Israeli surveying party and a military escort engaged in marking the armistice line was fired on from the Jordan side of the border. One Israeli soldier was wounded fatally.

Twenty miles to the south, he said, an Israeli patrol later encountered Jordanian shepherds tending flocks on Israeli territory. When the Iraelis approached them, the spokesman claimed, the Israelis were fired on from across the border and one soldier was wounded.

Blind Man, 92, Is Serving As Justice

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Although blind and 92 years old, Charles C. Lord today began another four-year term as justice of the peace.

Lord, in office 20 years, calls himself "senior justice of the United States," meaning the oldest J. P. in the nation.

Aided by assistants, he conducts a busy court with civil and criminal cases running into the hundreds each year.

He lost his eyesight about 10 years ago.

SOUTH KOREAN ATTACKS INDIA

PANMUNJOM (AP)—South Korea's foreign minister has asseailed India for backing a report blaming South Korea for sabotaging the explanations to balky war prisoners.

"W are not surprised," Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai declared, "because we know India will side with the Communists on all important issues."

Pyun's attack was the opening blow of an expected South Korean thundercalp against India's neutrality in the touchy prisoner situation.

India, the chairman of the five-nation repatriation commission, sided with Poland and Czechoslovakia in a majority report that accused South Korea of controlling compounds housing more than 22,000 anti-Communist North Korean and Chinese war prisoners.

Only a small number of the anti-Red prisoners ever met Communist persuasion teams in the 90-day explanation period. Those that did rejected return to their homelands by an overwhelming majority.

A minority report by Sweden and Switzerland blamed Communist explanation teams for dragging out the interviews sometimes as long as five hours.

Pyun told a news conference in Seoul he did not know what went on behind the prison compounds in the neutral zone but added, "I do not think the Communist charges are fully founded."

Shippensburg May Become Spoilers In South Penn Basketball League Race

(This is the sixth in a series of articles on prospects of teams in the South Penn League for the 1954 season.)

By Bill Kennedy, Sports Editor News-Chronicle

With South Penn Conference action due to open Tuesday, January 5, the Shippensburg area high school Greyhounds seem destined to fill the role of spoilers in the league. The Fran McPherson coached Greyhounds have not yet proven themselves a winning club on the road, a requisite in any title threat.

But the Greyhounds have shown themselves a far stronger team on their own court than on the road, a fact that could prove embarrassing to some of the stronger South Penn teams before this season is over.

While the Hounds lost decisively to both Biglerville and Greencastle in early season road battles, they reversed the count with both teams on their own court, winning easily in both cases. The Greyhounds just seem to be a smoother, more effective club at home.

More Height

The Hounds have more height this year among their starting five than has been the case in most recent seasons. Veteran Dick Angle is an even six feet and one of the best rebounders for his height in conference action.

Tall men on the squad, however, are two junior varsity graduates from last year. Glenn Smith and Jim Brunner are both about two inches over the six foot mark, and are the men who must come through if the Greyhounds are to enjoy a successful season.

Smith is the inside scoring threat, and the one man on the team who seems able to add punch that has not yet developed. If Smith has a few hot nights, he could remake the team. Brunner is the better rebounder of the two, and also the "quarterback" of the team. While he has a deadly quick set, his role of playmaker cuts down his scoring chances.

Keefer Scoring Threat

Most consistant scoring threat on the team is Ray Keefer, a veteran just under the six-foot mark. He and Bill Weaver provide the outside scoring threat with long sets, and they seem the most developed players on the team. No team that allows Weaver and Keefer to pop from the backcourt undisturbed can count on beating the Hounds.

Both players are good floormen and both can be counted on for 15 or 20 points most of the time. But winning basketball games today depends on the big men, they must get the rebounds and drop in the points. While the Greyhounds' big men have looked good at times, they haven't been consistent enough yet to make the team a likely title threat in the South Penn.

Reserve power on the Hounds this year is provided by the same two boys who divided the quarterbacking on the football team, Tom Kling and Jack Tritt. Both good floor men, neither has too much height. And so far neither has proven an effective scorer.

Gives $250,000 To Lawrenceville School

LAWRENCEVILLE, N. J. (AP)—Allan V. Heely, head master of the Lawrenceville School, yesterday announced the gift of $250,000 to the school by Allan P. Kirby of Morristown.

Kirby, president of the Alleghany Corp., attended Lawrenceville, and long has been active in the school's affairs. He is a member of the board of trustees.

Kirby also is a member of the board of Lafayette College, of which he is an alumnus and to which he has made several large gifts.

No decision has been reached by Lawrenceville as to the specific use to be made of Kirby's contribution. The school has extensive plans for improving its facilities, and the gift probably will be applied to one of the most needed unts of the proposed program.

PIAA Holds Last General Meeting

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Assn. today held its last general meeting following approval of a constitutional amendment eliminating the annual event.

"There was a time when all the problems facing the PIAA were discussed in the general meeting," said W. E. Griffith, treasurer of the organization which rules Pennsylvania high school sports. Votes on three PIAA constitution amendments were tabulated yesterday by the organization's board of control.

"The district meetings now cover all problems," Griffith added. There are 12 PIAA districts and their activities are coordinated by the board of control.

On two minor amendments, PIAA member schools voted to cut the maximum length of junior high school football game periods from 10 to 8 minutes and in basketball from 8 to 6 minutes.

The next regular quarterly meeting of the board of control is set for Philadelphia on March 27.

AWARD MASTER $50,000 FEE

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Albert H. Aston has been awarded $50,000 as partial expenses incurred while he served as special master in the Williamsport Wire Rope Co. case.

The award was made yesterday by U.S. District Judge Albert L. Watson. Ashton had asked the court to set aside 2½ per cent of a 6 million dollar fund to cover contingencies and the court approved the request.

Ashton last week recommended that the court approve payment of claims valued at $4,073,124 by stockholders of the Williamsport firm—acquired by the Bethlehem Steel Co. in 1937. The shareholders contended Bethlehem's acqusition of the wire rope company was illegal.

The 6 million dollar fund represents money paid by Bethlehem to finally acquire all stock of the wire rope company. The steel company originally bought up the wire rope firm for $3,300,000 but paid out the additional 6 million dollars after Ashton last year recommended the stockholders still had claims for their shares.

AP Reporter Visits Young Pioneers "Palace" And Sees Children Act Under Orders

Editor's Note—William L. Ryan, in a three-month stay in the Soviet Union, talked to scores of Russians without benefit of interpreters. He traveled 6,000 miles without going on any of the "escorted tours" arranged for most foreigners visiting the Soviet Union. Here, in another of his uncensored stories, he gives an insight into communism's hold on youth.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foriegn News Analyst

"What do a Russian girl and boy talk about when they go out for an evening on the town?"

Mystification prompted this question to a young Communist-reared woman. I had noted Russians in a restauarant attempting to have a good time and making a pretty glum affair of it. They just seemed to sit and stare at each other.

"Oh," she said, "there are lots of things to talk about."

"What, for example? You are married. Your husband must have courted you. What did you talk about?"

"Oh," she repeated. "There are many things. There's socialist competition, for example."

Early Red Training

This is partly nonsense, of course. Basically, young men and women in Russia discuss many of the same things that couples elsehere talk about. Nevertheless, their attitude toward life shows the effects of sealed off, effective training. The Communist party's system of education from nursery onward captures the choice core of a generation.

The Soviet Communist party puts the accent on youth though many youngsters escape the rigid mold. The party is interested principally in talented youngsters who will be indoctrinated and trained to form a hard core from which party leaders of tomorrow will be selected and trained.

Every Soviet town has its house or "palace" of Young Pioneers. Theoretically, all Soviet children are members of the Young Pioneers. But those who frequent the palaces are the ones who get special attention until they resemble little robots, responding automatically to commands. The stress is upon development of talent, party education and discipline.

Prepared For Visit

During a trip to a half dozen Soviet republics, I visited some of these Pioneer palaces. The one in Tashkent, capital of the Uzbek S.S.R., seems fairly typical. I went there one Sunday unannounced, and after some argument with the guard at the gate and showing my impressive Red police pass, I was allowed to go in. I was a problem to the woman in charge, but she took me in tow for a guided tour. Fortunately for her, things had been arranged in anticipation of visits from a number of "delegations" including Brazilians, Indonesians and Mongolians.

There were no more than 50 children in the building, with an equal number in the yard outside. The rest of the children of Tashkent (population 600,000) were about other pursuits in the streets and parks. Those in the palace—a long, rambling two-story building surrounded by a slogan-decked fense—were the cream of the talent the Pioneers could boast in various fields. There were about an equal number of young Uzbeks and young Russians. Obediently, they awaited quietly the guests' arrival. They were all done up in their Sunday best, all wearing red neckerchiefs symbolizing the Young Pioneer organization.

Robot Session

I was shown the "Kabinet," where children ranging in age from about 7 to 14 discuss Young Pioneer business gravely—like a "little government," the guide said. Such a meeting apparently already had been arranged.

In another room, 18 boys and girls bent over chessboards playing a simultaneous match with a local chess master.

In other rooms I was shown children's handicraft, painting and sculpture, some of it remarkably good, and their biological and zoological collections. A class of children in costume was learning Uzbek folk dances. A group of three young accordionists used Italian and German instruments under an instructor's eye.

Children Are Shy

The children were extremely shy with me, and later, with the delegations. There were no bubbling, rambunctious kids such as one might expect to find in that age bracket in any large group. Somehow they seemed spiritless. The talent was there, beyond question, and the training was there, but the childhood was not. Gravely they did everything they were told to do without hesitation or questions.

The Brazilian delegation, ushered in by a Portuguese-speaking guide, from the Communist World Federation of Trade Unions Congress in Vienna, the Brazilians were expressively enthusiastic about Soviet youth. They gave the impression that they took these children as typical of all Communist-reared youth, although just outside in the streets, as in the streets of any Soviet capital, many a young tough can be seen—loud and rowdy cigarette smoking boys who already have begun to scratch for a living. Children of the better class Communists are shielded from such influences.

Molded Into Red Pattern

Trained during the working day by Russian nurses and teachers in any Soviet city, in the parks and on quiet streets, children can be seen in groups of 50 or more going through their paces with teachers watching. They are molded into the Russian and Communist mold.

They will grow up as Uzbek Russians, Tadjik Russians, Kazakh Russians, Azerbaijan Russians. Since all their affairs will be in the Russian language, as the years go by they will have less and less use for their own.

Shielded from information from the outside world which does not fit into the Communist pattern, the children become obedient servants of a Communist society.

Watch Children Closely

Many escape the rigid pattern, however. As the Soviet middle class continues to grow, more and more others are attempting to give up working so they may rear their children themselves.

A tremendous amount of attention is given to children by the Communist party and Soviet government. The education network is growing constantly because no highly industrialized nation can hope to survive in today's world without a broad base of education

But Communist education comes first.

HOAD VICTORY TIES DAVIS CUP CHALLENGERS

MELBOURNE (AP)—Lewis Hoad one of Australia's 19-year-old wonder boys who has devoted his life to tennis since he was 10, defeated America's ace, Tony Trabert, 13-11, 6-3, 2-6, 3-6, 7-5 today in a miserable, steady rain to tie the Davis Cup Challenge Round at 2-all.

The condition of the Kooyong court was so bad after the match—which went 62 games and lasted just five minutes short of three hours—that officials decided to postpone the deciding singles test until tomorrow.

Now the optimism that was rampant in the United States' camp has subsided somewhat, for the Americans' slumping star, Vic Seixas, will go into action against Ken Rosewall, the other Australian 19-year-old. Rosewall has licked Seixas six times in a row.

Court Condition Poor

The only real ray of snushine that U.S. Captain Billy Talbert can see is that in a way Rosewall has been as bad as Seixas. Ken was benched in the doubles yesterday after his poor showing in the opening singles against Trabert. So the pressure will be on both players.

Still, today's match was the one the Americans had counted on winning.

It wasn't that Trabert didn't perform well. He did. On occasions, he was brilliant. In fact, strange as it may sound, he held the upper hand most of the way.

The rain and wretched condition of the court bothered him, but that certainly was not why he lost. Young Hoad had to play on the same court. Perhaps Trabert was annoyed a bit more because he is a bgger fellow than Hoad and had more trouble balancing himself on the slippery turf.

Trabert slipped three times in the early going, and Referee Cliff Sproule came onto the court after the fourth game of the second set and looked over the grass. He returned to his position without comment.

But two games later, it became obvious that something would have to be done and he told both players they could wear spikes. Trabert accepted the offer, but Hoad elected to go on with his tennis sneakers since he was ahead. The youngster probably thought it better not to change tactics while he was winning.

York Springs And Dillsburg News

MISS LEREW, LT. R. H. CLINTON WED SATURDAY

On Saturday, Joyce Ann Lerew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Lerew, Dillsburg, and 2nd Lt. Robert H. Clinton, of the U. S. Marine Corps and son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Clinton, Hellam, were married in Salem (Barren's) Union Church. Rev. Arthur T. Kaup, Dillsburg Reformed charge pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a strapless ballerina length gown of net over taffeta with lace inserts and a long-sleeved, lace bolero with a small collar. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and pompons.

Patricia M. Kratz, Elverson, Pa., attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore an apple green ballerina length gown and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow pompons and daisies. The bride's mother wore a teal blue afternoon dress with gray accessories and the bridegroom's mother chose a navy blue street dress. Both wore corsages of white roses and pompons.

Harvey Jacobs Jr., Mechanicsburg, was best man with William Bechtel, East Berlin, and Jay Brubaker, Palmyra, serving as ushers. Marigrace Bucker of Mt. Joy sang "Through the Years," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee." Donald Golden, York Springs, organist, accompanied Miss Bucker and also furnished several solo selections. Reception was held in the church social room immediately following the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Dillsburg High School in 1951 and is a junior at Elizabethtown College. The bridegroom was graduated from Hallam High School in 1949 and from the Elizabethtown College in 1953. He is stationed at Quantico, Va. The couple left for a honeymoon immediately following the reception.

The Session of the Presbyterian Church has called a congregational meeting to be held at the church at 11:30 a.m. Sunday, January 3, for the purpose of electing two elders to succeed the two members of the Class of 1953, Leo Blanchard and Paul Pizor, who are not eligible to succeed themselves.

BURIAL EXPENSES SEPARATE

WILKES-BARRE Pa. (AP) — The State Superior Court has upheld a ruling that burial expenses are separate and not deductible from compensation in awards made under the Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act.

The original ruling was made by Judge Thomas M. Lewis in Luzerne County Common Pleas Court. The Superior Court reversed Judge James J. Curran of a Schuylkill County, ho had written a decision in an identical case.

Announce Winners On Xmas Decorations

B. Wastler, York Springs R. 2, won the first prize of $20 in the annual York Springs community home decorating contest for the holidays. Many homes participated and were considered by a group of Dillsburg Lions who served as the judges.

YORK SPRINGS FIREMEN ELECT 1954 OFFICERS

The monthly meeting of the York Springs Fire Company was held Tuesday night when the following officers were elected: President, Albert Townsend; vice president, Charles Reinecker; secretary, Donald Lehman; assistant secretary, Jack Hershey; treasurer, James Behney; trustees, Charles Reinecker, Paul Lehman, Clyde Kennedy, Harold Miller and M. Firemen Called

The York Springs Fire Company was called at 5:45 p.m. Saturday and again Monday at 1:30 a.m. to extinguish a fire at the top of Snyder's Hill. It was impossible to take the fire truck close to the fire so while some of the men carried the fire extinguishers over the rocky hill, other men cut brush and used it to beat out the flames. It remains a mystery how a fire started so far from roads or buildings.

My Daze

THE AFTERMATH . . . Now that Christmas is over, I hope you all got what you wanted, and no one was disappointed . . . By this time any turkey that was left over has probably been consumed. If it hasn't, better get rid of it quickly, before you start to LOOK like a gobbler . . . Any Christmas candy the boss gave you may be saved for Valentine Day and used for Tricks or Treats . . . Finally, better wait a few days before you return that gift to the store for something you really wanted . . . just in case the guy who gave it to you isn't standing in the exchange line ahead of you . . . and another thing, here's one of my PET PEEVES . . . How cum the shirt makers put so dang many pins in those new shirts . . . One would be plenty. But no, they pay a gal just to find new and exiting places to hide pins in shirts just so the customers won't find them. When I get a new shirt, I spend three hours looking for the pins, finally getting that last one removed from some out of the way place near the tail. By this time I have fingered the shirt so often, that it is too dirty to wear anyhow . . . Then comes the moment we have waited for . . . I breathlessly slide into the cool white cloth and it happens . . . That last pin they hid so well bites into my skin, my arm jerks, and I rip the shirt clean down the back . . . I have a hunch the manufacturers do this to sell more shirts! They sit in their offices gleefully examining new and longer pins with which to fool the people . . . Honestly, it was easier getting vaccinated in the army. At least we knew when "it" was coming!

THURMONT . . . Word has reached us of a fabulous bowling team. They have compiled a record which, to my knowledge, has never been surpassed in the history of bowling. This team is known as the Claire Frocks Bowling Team. To date they have only five points garnered in their league, which means they haven't won a match all season. Some of the stellar (?) bowlers are: Dick "Down-the-gutter" Eversole, Carmel "Needs-new-Glasses" Kelly, Cal "No-Strike" Saylor, Bob "Must-be-the-heat" Strine, Wilford "Set-em-up" Wisner, Ambrose "Bounce-Em" Eckenrode.

NEW YEAR'S . . . Hey folks, please be careful if you imbibe and remember the price of that last drink should be your car keys . . . and the "one for the road" better be coffee or tea! Happy New Year.

. . . HH

FINE ORDERS 2 PENNSYLVANIA PENAL CENTERS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's prison system reorganization took another giant step forward today as Gov. John S. Fine placed in full-scale operation two classification centers for all state prisoners.

In three proclamations issued late Monday, the governor officially separated Rockview and Graterford prisons from their parent Western and Eastern State penitentiaries.

The governor's action was in conformity with revamping of the penal system recommended by the Devers committee early this year and approved by the 1953 General Assembly.

Th groundwork for these latest steps was prepared by Arthur T. Prasse, commissioner of correction.

Probe Followed Riots

The entire reorganization is the result of the prison investigation carried out by governor's special committee after large scale prison rioting in January. The committee was headed by retired Gen. Jacob L. Devers.

On recommendation of the committee—and with the approval of Fine—seven state penal institutions were transferred from the Welfare Department to the Justice Department.

Under the new setup Prasse became Pennsylvania's first commissioner of correction. He is doubling up the job with his post of superintendent of the Pennsylvania Industrial School at White Hill, one of seven state penal institutions.

New Rockview Head

Under the governor's proclamation, the establishment of Rockview and Graterford as independent institutions is effective Jan. 15. Frederick Baldi, former head of Philadelphia city-county prisons, has been named to direct administration of Rockview.

Appointments are still to be made at Eastern, Western and Graterford.

The two new correctional diagnostic and classification centers are located at Eastern and Western. Both were set up by Dr. Kenneth Taylor, new deputy commissioner for treatment. Taylor served as senior psychologist at Western State several years.

Both centers have been functioning on a limited scale, reassigning prisoners from one institution to another.

Classify Prisoners

After Jan. 1, however, all convicted persons will be sent to one or the other. Officials at the center will determine which institutions is best fitted to handle the individual prsoner.

Only those who are condemned to death, or sentenced to White Hill, and women—who go to the State Industrial Home for Women at Muncy—will bypass the classification centers.

Other changes planned under the prison reorganization plan include construction of a new institution for defective delinquents, conversion of the present institution at Huntingdon to a fifth penitentiary, further expansion of prison industries and inauguration of a training program for prison guards.

Duke Will Attend Funeral Services

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh will interrupt the royal tour of New Zealand to fly to Wellington for mass funeral services Thursday for the victims of this country's Christmas Eve railway disaster—the worst in its history.

The husband of Queen Elizabeth II will fly with Prime Minister Sidney Holland to the services.

The total possible death toll in the wreck was reduced again Tuesday to 147. Thus far 117 bodies have been recovered from the train, which crashed into the Wangaehu River while carrying passengers from Wellington to Auckland to see the Queen. Fourteen passengers at first believed lost have turned up and only 30 remain unaccounted for.

Tuesday Queen Elizabeth and her husband picnicked in the country at the home of a businessman at Pohoui, 21 miles north of Auckland.

majority of requests are from farmers interested in feeding and fattening steers."

600 In Breeders' Group

The report shows interest in dairying improvement continuing in the county.

Six hundred county farmers are now members of the artificial breeding cooperative in order to improve their herds, the report shows, adding that this "show a steady increase."

Considerable time was devoted to dairy herd improvement work, Attinger states. "All testers completed the full year of testing. Our DHIA directors meet next month to discuss problems. A Holstein breeders association with 30 members conducted three meetings during the year.

"Flaw" In Dairy Picture

"Sixty-three individual requests for feeding dairy cattle received attention, as did 36 requests on calf feeding and 24 requests for milk house remodeling."

There was one "flaw" in the picture of dairy herd improvement. Attinger reported: "The county-wide committee of five members representing the Bang's Control Program in cooperation with the state and federal program conducted two meetings with 103 in attendance. The program is moving very slowly due to lack of interest which causes area testing to be impossible at the present."

Bee mortality can "be expected to be quite heavy," according to the report, although "honey production was good nearly all year except late summer and early fall." Attinger added, "We are still troubled with the problem of spray poisoning killing many of our bees."

Bad Year For Borer

The annual corn borer survey showed Freedom Twp. to be completely free of corn borer this year. Mt. Joy, however, showed 64 per cent of the stalks infested with the count showing 160 borers per 100 stalks. Union, with 52 per cent of stalks infected, showed 130 borers per 100 stalks of corn. Berwick had only 8 per cent of its stalks infected, with the count showing four borers per 100 stalks.

Reading had 40 per cent infestation, with 100 borers per 100 stalks; Tyrone, four per cent infestation, with four borers per 100 stalks; Franklin had a 53 per cent infestation with the count showing 130 borers per 100 stalks. Cumberland Twp. had a 36 per cent infestation, with 85.3 borers per 100 stalks.

The report shows the number of borers per stalk throughout the county to be the highest in years. The count shows 85.3 borers per 100 stalks in the area checked, as compared to 36.6 in 1952, 65.6 in 1951 and 31.7 in 1950.

PARKING UNIT IS INVOLVED IN POLITICAL FUSS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Parking Authority, which a week ago dedicated its first completed building—a 2½ million dollar, five level garage in an aura of serenity and achievement, today was embroiled in a political hassle.

Authority Chairman Francis J. Chesterman resigned Monday with a verbal blast at Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. He accused Clark of yielding to Democratic organization pressure in treating the authority as a "political plum."

Clark in turn lashed out at Chesterman's handling of the authority and the part played by the law firm of J. Harry LaBrum, which was counsel for the authority from its inception in 1950 until Dec. 31, 1952.

Clark said he was "shocked" over legal fees paid to LaBrum's firm. He said LaBrum, who is also president of the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Philadelphia, had been "secretly" paid $75,000 in legal fees by the parking authority.

Got $5,000 Raise

The Democratic mayor claimed that LaBrum, learning of a contemplated change in the authority staff, drew up a new three-year contract for Howard Scott as executive director and raised his salary from $10,000 to $15,000.

Chesterman, Clark said, signed the contract "without any act of authorization by the board," and in addition, Scott, former Republican deputy city treasurer, sought to "give the contract quasi-legal authority" by asking Clement V. Conole, board secretary, to attest Chesterman's signature. Conole refused the mayor said.

Legal Fees Not Secret

Both Scott and Chesterman declined immediate comment.

LaBrum, who described himself as an "independent Republican," vigorously denied Clark's charges and accused the mayor of using "Russian tactics of the big smear and the big lie."

There was nothing secret about the legal fees paid his law firm, LaBrum said. They were approved by the board and the information was available to anyone who checked.

"It's typical of Mayor Clark," LaBrum added; "that he never looks for the facts."

The attorney said his office drew up the Scott contract as "directed by the parking authority" and the board approved it.

Clark, in his statement, denied political considerations in his four appointees to the board. He said they were decided upon "without prior consultation with the Democratic city chairman" and that none of the four was recommended by any Democratic organization leader.

Cites Political Faith

He listed the four as: Paul C. Wagner, vice president of the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co. and a "lifelong Republican;" former Procurement Commissioner Charles H. Frazier, a registered Democrat with no organization ties; William D. Teefy, who recently resigned as treasurer of the Democratic City Committee; and Melvin Fox, a motion picture executive and an independent Democrat.

Chesterman last year headed a research group which made recommendations to the State Legislature on reorganization of the commonwealth's administrative structure.

From 1940 to 1950 the proportion of men in the U. S. population who were married increased from about 62 to about 67 per cent.

NEW UNIVERSAL PENSION PLAN NOT LIKELY TO PASS CONGRESS

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep Kean (R-NJ) predicted today neither the Eisenhower administration nor Congress will adopt a key Republican colleague's plan to pay social security pensions to almost everyone over 65.

Rep. Carl T. Curtis R(-Neb), chairman of a social security subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee, outlined the far-reaching new program yesterday. It seemed destined for heated controversy when Congress convenes next week.

Kean, fourth-ranking, Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, has been an Eisenhower supporter and has taken a special interest in social security. He said Curtis' plan would undermine the social security trust fund.

Would Boost Amount

Curtis called in effect for pensions now for all retired persons over 65 years old, and for an increase in the monthly minimum social security benefit from the present $25 to $45.

He estimated this would add some five million new aged persons, 670,000 children and 150,000 widows or orphans to the old age retirement and survivors' insurance (OASI) benefit rolls, more than doubling the present number.

Curtis said the new minimum would increase benefits for more than 1,700,000 aged persons, 300,000 orphans and 100,000 widows already on the rolls.

Would End Present Plan

He called for tax contributions from all workers under 65, levied on all types of income. He would let the rate jump from 1½ to 2 per cent in incomes up to $3,600 annually, paid by workers and employers alike, as scheduled Friday. He estimated this would bring more than 10½ million doctors, lawyers, farmers and others from the present working force into the system.

His universal pension plan would end the present dual program of aid to the aged. The OASI program provides retirement or death benefits based on contributions from workers and employers.

Would Aid GOP Plan

A separate program has provided more than one billion dollars annually in federal welfare grants to some 2½ million aged and dependent children, based on their need. State and local governments also contribute to this program and administer it locally.

Curtis would abolish the federal portion of this program, but state and local governments could provide welfare payments to the needy if they wished.

Since the welfare program is included in the regular federal budget, while social security trust fund operations are not, this would give a billion-dollar boost to the GOP drive to balance the regular federal budget.

SEES EXCITING SESSION IN '54

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) today termed "an excellent idea" President Eisenhower's plan to give an advance outline of his 1954 program to key Democrats, but the senator made plain he will not pledge blanket support.

And Russell, the unofficial leader of a powerful group of Southern Democrats in the Senate, noted in an interview that the almost equal division of Congress in effect gives Democrats a potential veto power over anything the President requests.

"There always is politics in Congress during a campaign year under our Democratic system," Russell said. "We'll have an exciting session."

Russell is one of the top Democratic congressional leaders invited by Eisenhower to hear a White House preview of his State of the Union message Jan. 5, two days before it is presented publicly to Congress. Congress convenes Jan. 6.

In 1900 only two per cent of the total U. S. population lived in California compared to seven per cent in 1950.

HANOVER OF LONG AGO

TRAIN IN WHICH PRESIDENT ABRAHAM LINCOLN RODE FROM HANOVER JUNCTION TO GETTYSBURG IN NOVEMBER, 1863

The picture was taken at Emory Grove shortly after it had carried its distinguished passenger. The train crew were all Hanoverians. The conductor was John Eckert, who resided in a one-story frame house which stood at the corner of Frederick Street and Centennial Avenue. The President presented Mr. Eckert with a watch which he carried as long as he lived and passed it on to his son, the late Grant Eckert, also a conductor.

In 1863 this was the Hanover Branch Railroad Company. Capt. A. W. Eichelberger was the president and the directors included Jacob Forney, William Grumbine, John Newman, Peter Flickinger, Jacob Wirt and John Jenkins. Other well-known citizens connected with the railroad about this time or later were John J. Bingley, master mechanic; Charles Harman, machinist; Jacob Bange, painter, and Joseph Leib, passenger agent. The railroad owned three locomotives and made two trips daily from Hanover Junction to Gettysburg. Later the railroad was taken over by the Western Maryland.
